

Because of you, someone will eat today

Ozarks Food Harvest provides 14 million meals to more than 260,000 people across The Food Bank's 28-county network. That's one in four people, right here in southwest Missouri, who will eat a meal today because of generous partners like you.

About half of households served by Ozarks Food Harvest include children or seniors who are food insecure, meaning they're not sure where their next meal will come from.
